Early Literacy

What We Know About Early Language and Literacy Development

Early language and literacy (reading and writing) development begins in the first three years of life and is closely linked to a child's earliest experiences with books and stories. The interactions that young children have with literacy materials such as books, paper, and crayons, and with the adults in their lives, are the building blocks for language, reading and writing development. This relatively new understanding of early literacy development complements the current research supporting the critical role of early experiences in shaping brain development. Language, reading, and writing skills develop at the same time and are intimately linked. Recent research supports an interactive and experiential process of learning spoken and written language skills that begins in early infancy.

We now know children gain significant knowledge of language, reading, and writing long before they enter school. Children learn to talk, read, and write through social literacy experiences such as adults or older children interacting with them using books and literacy materials, including magazines, markers, and paper. Simply put, early literacy research states that:

- Language, reading, and writing skills develop at the same time and are intimately linked.
- Early literacy development is a continuous developmental process that begins in the first years of life.
- Early literacy skills develop in real life settings through positive interactions with literacy materials and other people.

Early Literacy

Early Literacy Does Not Mean Early Reading

Our current understanding of early language and literacy development has provided new ways of helping children learn to talk, read, and write. But it does not advocate "the teaching of reading" to younger and younger children. Formal instruction which pushes infants and toddlers to achieve adult models of literacy (i.e., the actual reading and writing of words) is not developmentally appropriate. Early literacy theory emphasizes a more natural unfolding of skills through the enjoyment of books, the importance of positive interactions between young children and adults, and the critical role of literacy-rich experiences. Formal instruction requiring young children who are not developmentally ready to read is counterproductive and potentially damaging to the children, who may begin to associate reading and books with failure.

What Infants and Toddlers Can Do – Early Literacy Behaviors

Early literacy recognizes that language, reading, and writing evolve from a number of earlier skills. Judith Shickedanz first described categories of early literacy behaviors in her book, Much More Than The ABCs. Her categories, listed in the box below, can be used to understand the book behaviors of very young children. They help us to see the meaning of these book behaviors and see the progression children make along the path to literacy. Early literacy skills are essential to literacy development and should be the focus of early language and literacy programs. By focusing on the importance of the first years of life, we give new meaning to the interactions young children have with books and stories. Looking at early literacy development as a dynamic developmental process, we can see the connection and meaning between an infant mouthing a book, the book handling behavior of a two year old, and the page turning of a five year old. We can see that the first three years of exploring and playing with books, singing nursery rhymes, listening to stories, recognizing words, and scribbling are truly the building blocks for language and literacy development.

Early Literacy Behaviors

-  Book Handling Behaviors: Behaviors related to a child's physical manipulation or handling of books, such as page turning and chewing.
-  Looking and Recognizing: Behaviors related to how children pay attention to and interact with pictures in books, such as gazing at pictures or laughing at a favorite picture. Behaviors that show the recognition of and a beginning understanding of pictures in books, such as pointing to pictures of familiar objects.
-  Picture and Story Comprehension: Behaviors that show a child's understanding of pictures and events in a book, such as imitating an action seen in a picture or talking about the events in a story.
-  Story-Reading Behaviors: Behaviors that include children's verbal interactions with books and their increasing understanding of print in books, such as babbling in imitation of reading or running fingers along printed words.

PATCH TRAINING GUIDELINES

Reminders About PATCH Training Attendance

Thank you for your diligence as a child care professional and your dedication to your on-going training and development.

When attending PATCH training classes there are a few guidelines to remember:

Sign Up for Classes Ahead of Time: Remember to sign up for PATCH classes in advance by calling your local PATCH office. To register for a class you must pay a $5.00 refundable deposit to PATCH at least three calendar days before the class. Your $5.00 deposit will be returned upon attendance or can be applied to a future class.

Remember to sign in: You will not receive a certificate for a training class if your name does not appear on the sign-in sheet. Please check all your information on the sign-in sheet. Print clearly when correcting errors in your name, address, or telephone number.

Be on time: If you arrive more than 15 minutes late, you will not be allowed to sign in. If you are unable to stay for the full duration of the training, you will not receive a training certificate. In both of these circumstances, your attendance will not be posted in the database for that class. Likewise, if a trainer is more than 15 minutes late—you may assume that the class has been cancelled due to unforeseen circumstances. We will call you to reschedule the class.

Turn off your cell phone: As a courtesy to the other participants, please turn off the volume of your cell phone or pager.

Adults only please: We love children too, but as a courtesy to other participants, we ask you to make alternative arrangements for child care.

Bring your Record of Training: Please bring your Record of Training (available via the PATCH office) to each class and remember to get the PATCH instructor's signature after each class. When you have completed an entire series, please return the original Record of Training to the PATCH office and we will mail you a Certificate of Completion for the series.

Keep good records: Whether you take a PATCH class or any other training, you should keep track of the trainings you attend for future reference. If you need verification of your PATCH classes, there is a $2.00 fee for a computer printout list of classes taken at PATCH. If you have misplaced your Record of Training sheet, there is a $3.00 fee for a replacement. Duplicate certificates are available for $1.00 each. Please keep in mind that PATCH often deletes information more than 5 years old to make room for the following year.

PATCH strives to coordinate its Training Program (and other programs) to fit the needs of Hawaii's child care professionals. If you have comments or suggestions, please contact your local PATCH office or email us at Patch@PatchHawaii.org.
