Vroom for First Time Parents

By: Queen Flores, Maui Continuous Quality Improvement Coordinator

As a first-time parent, I felt like I needed to read every parent handbook, buy the latest toys, and take every parenting class there is. Turns out, we just needed some Vroom tips. Vroom is a set of FREE tools and resources from the Bezos Family Foundation designed to inspire families to turn everyday moments into "brain building moments" by layering activities that are essential to healthy brain development onto existing routines. It encourages parents and caregivers to play an active role in the young child's brain development.

Vroom was developed with input from early childhood experts, neuroscientists, parents, and community leaders, as well as the Center on the Developing Child.

I learned about Vroom from attending PATCH's Mind in the Making training and gained knowledge on a variety of tools available for free, as well as a mobile app that provides easy access to daily "brain building" activities. As a working mom, I appreciate any help given! So, it's great that Vroom has printable Vroom materials to help remind me that brain building moments are already in the things we already do. We printed the Vroom tips and kept them on our fridge. Each Vroom tip has a suggested age, instruction activity, and research information about the tip.

My son is 14 months old and has been babbling a lot lately. One of the Vroom tips we use frequently is the 'Babbling Baby.' The 'Babbling Baby' activity says, "if they're saying "ba, ba, ba," sing this sound to a favorite tune. Watch their eyes light up. Guess what? Your baby's brain lit up too!" We like to sing "I like to eat apples and bananas" when he says, 'ba' or make ah sounds." The research behind this Vroom tip explains that "your child will love the fact that you're singing along with them. By doing so, you and your child are having a conversation with sounds, which helps them listen carefully and copy you. This gets them ready for conversations with words, which will lead to better reading skills."

This along with 44 other Vroom tips are such a great resource to keep handy. My husband and I continue to find ways to interact with our son through these amazing tools. Sometimes we don't need more toys, we just need a few minutes a day for these quality interactions.

There are Vroom tips for school readiness, stressful times, and life skills, all of which are incredible—ALL FOR FREE! You could even subscribe through the Vroom app and get more FREE tips via text! We plan to continue using Vroom and their many resources until our child enters is five years old.

So if you're a parent in need like us-check out their website at Vroom.org for resources!

Family Style Meal Service

Family style meal service is a type of meal service where adults and children sit at the same table, eating together while sharing pleasant conversations. People pass food to one another from common serving dishes and children serve themselves what they would like to eat and how much.

Benefits of Family Style Meal Service for Children

Participating in FSMS provides skills that reinforce learning and development, increase vocabulary, encourage social interactions with others, create feelings of independence, and instill lifelong healthy habits. Let's take a closer look at the benefits.

Social Skills

Children have the chance to learn and practice social skills. Saying "please" and "thank you," waiting their turn, and sharing the group meal are learned social skills. Engaging in conversation during the meal with others supports social development.

Motor Skills

When children pass a bowl or put food on their plate, they are learning and practicing self-serve skills that will expand both gross and fine motor skills. Keep in mind that children develop at individual rates and may be at different skill levels. Younger children may need more help learning self-serve skills. Help them by providing child-sized utensils that are easier to maneuver and foods that are easy to scoop or handle.

Tips for Developing Self-Serve Skills

Before implementing FSMS, adults should model actions and children should practice the following skills.

Set up stations to learn how to:

Pass serving dishes with both hands and keeping fingers out of the food.

- Use various serving utensils: scoops, tongs, and short-handled serving spoons.
- Pour beverages by pretend pouring "dry liquids" such as sand in play areas, and water over a large sink or water table.

Transition skills to meal and snack time by:

Pouring beverages into child-size cups, with assistance as needed.

• Cleaning up their eating area by putting their used dishes in a designated area. Wiping a table or a spill with a sponge, paper towel, or cloth.

Cleaning up after each meal and snack.

Food Safety

FSMS teaches children food safety, which will help reinforce healthy behaviors they will use in the future. The following are some food safety practices children may

Washing hands before mealtime

Keeping fingers out of the food in the serving dishes while passing food Using serving utensils for service and personal utensils for eating Cleaning up spills correctly and using it as a positive learning experience

Autonomy of Food Choice

According to the Satter Feeding Dynamics Model, when children control food choices and portion sizes, they can regulate food intake and learn to eat a variety of food. Watching others take unfamiliar food encourages reluctant tasters to try something new. The choice of taking a small amount of food initially with the option of taking more later empowers children to expand their food choices. Adults should encourage but never force taking or tasting food. All these benefits can enhance self-confidence in children. They see all the different things they CAN do.

BOOKS WE LOVE TO READ

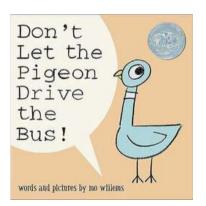

STAFFS' FAVORITE

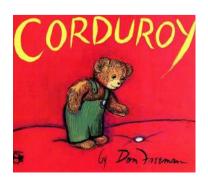

"Llama, Llama Red Pajama" by Anna Dewdney teaches kids about bedtime routines. It is about a llama getting ready for bed, assisted by his patient and loving momma. The book adds humor and rhymes to keep kids' attention, while also reiterating the value of a consistent bedtime routine.

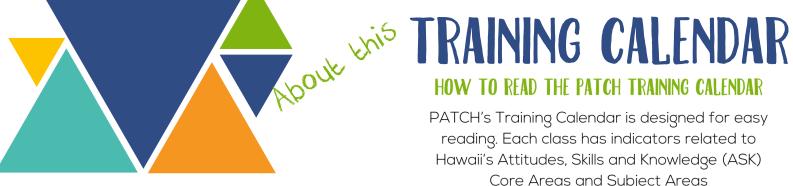

"The Little Engine That Could" by Watty Piper teaches kids about positivity, determination, and persistence. This book is about a little engine that pulls a train over a mountain, despite many obstacles in his way. The motto "I think I can, I think I can" comes from this classic story.

"Don't Let the Pigeon Drive the Bus!" by Mo Willems teaches kids about safety and boundaries. The book is about a bus driver who has to leave and asks the reader not to let the pigeon drive the bus. The pigeon tries to get control of the bus in a variety of ways, encouraging the readers to say "No!" to all of his schenanigans.

"Corduroy" by Don Freeman is about a teddy bear that is missing a button, preventing him from being selected as a toy and finding a home. Corduroy goes on a hunt for the missing button within the department store and learns valuable lessons about belonging along the way.

ID LIKE TO SHARE MY JOURNEY TOWARDS FINALLY GETTING MY CDA. IT WAS SUCH A AMAZING PROCESS WITH LOTS OF SUPPORT FROM THE PATCH TEAM AND MY FAMILY. I COULDN'T THANK THEM ENOUGH. I'M A MOTHER OF THREE AND I SPENT A LOT OF SLEEPLESS NIGHTS / EARLY MORNINGS BEFORE THE KIDS GET UP WORKING ON MY ONLINE CLASSES AND GETTING MY PROFESSIONAL PORTFOLIO TOGETHER ALL WHILE TAKING CARE OF MY BABIES AND WORKING AS WELL. I LOVE IT THAT I'M ACTUALLY FINALLY DONE. I'M SO PROUD OF MYSELF AND VERY RELIEVED. THE BEST THING ABOUT RECEIVING MY CDA IS THAT I AM LEGALLY TITLED TO BE A PRESCHOOL TEACHER, I GET TO OFFICIALLY BE IN CHARGE OF CREATING THE BEGINNING OF THESE LITTLE CHILDREN'S LIVES AND SHAPE AND FORM THESE LITTLE HUMANS FOR THE BIG WORLD AHEAD OF THEM. I'M SUPER EXCITED TO MAKE A HUGE IMPACT IN EVERY CHILD I POSSIBLY CAN. CHILDREN ARE OUR FUTURE!
