What Care Providers Believe Every Parent Should Know About Child-Proofing Their Home

by Jac Allan

The tropical climate of Hawaii offers the perfect weather for families to stay active all year round. But did you know that 10,000 children end up at the emergency room every year due to the lack of child-proofing in the family home? While parents expect their child day care center to be free of danger for keikis, safety begins at home. Such common injuries include scalds and burns, particularly from hot irons and kitchen stoves. Injuries can be reduced by keeping an eye on your child and understanding where they go and how they get there.

Safety in the bathroom

The bathroom is the riskiest space in the home, and young children require your full attention whenever they are around water.

In fact, drowning is the leading cause of death in the home for children under the age of four, according to Safe Kids Worldwide. Thus, it is important to make sure you practice the following habits, such as:

- ⇒ Avoiding distractions such as using the phone or reading
- ⇒ Leaving children unattended, especially in the bathtub
- ⇒ Keeping the bathroom door shut at all times
- ⇒ Keeping medications, toiletries, and beauty products out of reach
- ⇒ Always check the temperature of the water before giving your little one a bath. You can check the heat with your elbow or wrist to safeguard against scalds and burns.

Keeping bedrooms safe and comfortable

The keiki's playroom and bedroom are where they will spend most of their time. This means there is an extra potential for hazards. For infants, invest in a quality cot or bed that meets the latest compliant safety standards. If there are other items that have loose cabinets or drawers, keep them closed at all times. In addition, secure them with child-proof locks.

You can create a safe zone around their bed by positioning it away from heaters, windows, wall decorations, hard furniture, and cords. Curtains and blinds are also hazardous as your child's neck may become entangled. If the child's pajamas or daily clothing aren't flame-resistant, they must fit well. Avoid any loose-fitted clothing, which can catch on fire easily. Instead, opt for snug-fitting sleepwear as there's less air between the skin and the clothing.

Create a better living space

Research claims that a child is fatally crushed by fallen TVs or shelves every three weeks, due to poor safety habits. Do you always spot small toys all over the ground? Is your remote control missing a battery cover? Do you leave your power strip exposed? If so, your child is facing potential daily risks. Children can easily swallow an object or battery that blocks the throat or even unplug the cords and electrocute themselves. Instead, keep all potential cords, frames, and candles out of reach.

Do you own a glass table that you would hate to part with? Table edges are disasters for little ones learning to walk and gain balance. Thus, toddlers are at most risk of cutting their foreheads and eye region. To reduce the risk, buy a new tempered-glass top or purchase quality edge guards.

Whether children are at their day center or at home, they are always looking for ways to explore the unknown. As such, it is important to maintain these safety routines and make it part of a family activity in keeping your keiki safe through practice, discussion, and sharing with your loved ones.

PATCH TRAINING GUIDELINES

Reminders About PATCH Training Attendance

Thank you for your diligence as a child care professional and your dedication to your on-going training and development.

When attending PATCH training classes there are a few guidelines to remember:

Sign Up for Classes Ahead of Time: Remember to sign up for PATCH classes in advance by calling your local PATCH office. To register for a class you must pay a $5.00 refundable deposit to PATCH at least three calendar days before the class. Your $5.00 deposit will be returned upon attendance or can be applied to a future class.

Remember to sign in: You will not receive a certificate for a training class if your name does not appear on the sign-in sheet. Please check all your information on the sign-in sheet. Print clearly when correcting errors in your name, address, or telephone number.

Be on time: If you arrive more than 15 minutes late, you will not be allowed to sign in. If you are unable to stay for the full duration of the training, you will not receive a training certificate. In both of these circumstances, your attendance will not be posted in the database for that class. Likewise, if a trainer is more than 15 minutes late—you may assume that the class has been cancelled due to unforeseen circumstances. We will call you to reschedule the class.

Turn off your cell phone: As a courtesy to the other participants, please turn off the volume of your cell phone or pager.

Adults only please: We love children too, but as a courtesy to other participants, we ask you to make alternative arrangements for child care.

Bring your Record of Training: Please bring your Record of Training (available via the PATCH office) to each class and remember to get the PATCH instructor's signature after each class. When you have completed an entire series, please return the original Record of Training to the PATCH office and we will mail you a Certificate of Completion for the series.

Keep good records: Whether you take a PATCH class or any other training, you should keep track of the trainings you attend for future reference. If you need verification of your PATCH classes, there is a $2.00 fee for a computer printout list of classes taken at PATCH. If you have misplaced your Record of Training sheet, there is a $3.00 fee for a replacement. Duplicate certificates are available for $1.00 each. Please keep in mind that PATCH often deletes information more than 5 years old to make room for the following year.

PATCH strives to coordinate its Training Program (and other programs) to fit the needs of Hawaii's child care professionals. If you have comments or suggestions, please contact your local PATCH office or email us at Patch@PatchHawaii.org.
